

Macmillan, Ike Plan More Key Conferences

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan have agreed to meet at the White House this weekend for talks on the deepening East-West crisis in the United Nations.
Their talks are expected to concentrate on the anti-West offensive that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is waging in the United Nations.
Diplomatic authorities said Macmillan would fly to Washington from the U.N. headquarters in New York Saturday afternoon, visit with Eisenhower Sunday morning and return to New York the Sunday.
He will be accompanied here by his foreign minister, Lord Home, and the permanent head of the British Foreign Office, Frederick Hoyer-Millar.

By RELMAN MORIN
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, abruptly canceling his plans to go home, settled in today for an extra week's stay at the United Nations after two bleak encounters with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.
Macmillan is expected to give President Eisenhower a report on Khrushchev's rock-hard position in the next few days.
Sensation followed sensation at the U. N., making this session of the General Assembly the most extraordinary—and apparently the most dangerous—in its history.

Khrushchev was talking and acting tougher than ever.
Eisenhower may return to New York for the third time since the Assembly started, U. S. officials said.
Macmillan was to have sailed for London Saturday. An aide said instead he will stay in New York through next week. His departure date is now uncertain.

President Sukarno of Indonesia, addresses the General Assembly today. He came prepared to discuss disarmament and to propose means of melting the ice in the cold war.
It was reported also that he would advocate seating Communist China in the U. N., despite Indonesia's recent troubles with Red China over laws curtailing Chinese merchants in Indonesia.

Sukarno met Thursday night with Indian Prime Minister Nehru, President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic, President Tito of Yugoslavia, and President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana.
While they were talking, Macmillan went to the headquarters of the Soviet delegation to see Khrushchev.

Earlier, Khrushchev had given the General Assembly a totally new experience while Macmillan was speaking. The Russian pounded the desk in apparent anger, rose from his seat to gesticulate and broke in on Macmillan with shouted remarks in Russian.
Some listeners thought he yelled out, "Don't commit aggression!" Others understood him to say, "Don't send over any more U.S. There were varying interpretations of his bellowed remarks about disarmament.
But there was no disagreement that he had ripped the diplomatic book of etiquette to shreds, with a performance comparable to slurping soup at a white-tie dinner.

Hope Couple Find Buck Fawn on Ozan Road

MRS. DEXTER BAILEY AND BUCK FAWN SHE AND her husband found on Highway 4 near Ozan last week-end — photographed Thursday on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Huffman, to whom the Baileys gave the animal.

MR. AND MRS. BAILEY WERE ENROUTE TO THE newspaper-radio employes' cottage on Narrows Lake last Saturday when this little fawn popped up on the highway north of Ozan. The Baileys piled him into their car and took him on to the lake, where he spent the night on the cottage's screened porch. They brought him back to Hope and found the Huffmans were willing to build a pen and take him.
THURSDAY, HOWEVER, MRS. HUFFMAN EXPRESSED her doubts while The Editor was making the picture. Said Mrs. Huffman: "The last time we were given something (Mrs. Bailey is The Star's general bookkeeper) it was a crippled humming pigeon that The Star turned over to us because we had some pigeons of our own. Well, we nursed this bird back to good health — and she paid off by leaving one night and taking two of our pigeons with him!"

Reds Still in Congo, Says Army Chief

By DAVE MASON
LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Congo strongman Col. Joseph Mobutu charged today that Communist agents are continuing clandestine operations here two weeks after they were supposedly ejected from the country.
Mobutu, the Congo army chief of staff, said that his men seized a powerful radio transmitter and receiver and a stock of ammunition Thursday night in the closed-down Czechoslovak Embassy.
The colonel told newsmen that broadcasts had been made regularly each night from the embassy but that the Communist agent who had been broadcasting escaped.
Mobutu ordered Czech and Soviet diplomats out of the Congo when he staged his military coup Sept. 14. They packed up and flew away but said they were back.
Mobutu also said that a Communist journalist employed by the French Communist organ L'Humanite returned to Leopoldville Thursday. He said his men were keeping a close watch on him.
Mobutu received this reporter and two others at his heavily guarded home in the army's Camp Leopold II. He displayed a powerful German-made radio transmitter and a Hungarian receiver which he said were found in the Czech Embassy.
He also exhibited some 25 boxes of shotgun shells and pistol bullets in boxes labeled "Made in Czechoslovakia."

Neutralists Urge Ike, K Get Together

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Neutralist leaders at the U.N. today urged President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev to get together as a "first urgent step" toward easing world tensions.

The formal plea was laid before the U.N. jointly by India's Premier Nehru, Gamal Abdel Nasser, president of the United Arab Republic, Yugoslav President Tito, Indonesian President Sukarno and Ghana's President Kwame Nkrumah.

These five government heads are the leading figures of the neutralist countries at the U.N.
The appeal was in the form of a resolution drafted for action at the 15th general session of the United Nations.

Speaking on the eve of Red China's National Day celebrations to Chinese leaders and visitors in the Communist capital from 70 countries and areas, Chou repeated that his nation wants "peaceful coexistence" with all peoples.
Nevertheless, Peiping radio reported he accused U.S. leaders of spurring arms expansion and war preparations, including Communist countries, blocking acceptance of the Soviet Union, attempting to smother the independence movements of Asia, Africa and Latin America, and blocking peace.

Adenauer Retaliates by Cutting Off Trade With East Germany

Red UN Bloc Gathers for Counter Thrust

By RELMAN MORIN
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The Communist bloc mounted a counteroffensive in the U.N. today against a tough major Western statement of policy, but neutralist leaders still undismayed, issued a formal demand for a new meeting at the summit of President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Speaking for the Communists, Poland's Wladyslaw Gomułka struck back at British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's hard-hitting address Thursday which touched off a violent fable-thumping demonstration by Khrushchev.

Gomułka said world peace would be impossible so long as the Western powers supported West Germany's claims to former Polish territory.

In the midst of the bitter Communist-Western quarrel, five neutralist leaders produced a formal plea for action by this historic, star-studded 15th General Assembly session. It asked the Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting as a "first urgent step" toward easing international tensions.

The five leaders, making the plea were President Tito of Communist Yugoslavia, President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic, President Kwame Nkrumah of Africa's Ghana, President Sukarno of Indonesia and Prime Minister Nehru of India.

The idea of an Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting was broached in a policy speech by Nasser Tuesday.

The formal draft resolution said there was deep concern over deteriorating international relations threatening the world with grave consequences.

It said the world has great expectations in this U.N. session, attended by many world leaders.

It requested as a "first urgent step" that the U.S. President and the Soviet premier "renew their contacts interrupted recently, so that their declared willingness to find resolutions of the outstanding problems by negotiation may be progressively implemented."

Eisenhower and Khrushchev last met face to face in Paris, when Khrushchev stormed against the May 1 U2 intelligence plane flight over the Soviet Union and said he would not talk with Eisenhower about world issues until the President apologized.

The summit meeting exploded at that moment.

Eisenhower has said he is unwilling to meet Khrushchev until the Soviet leader releases captive American crewmen of a U.S. RB74 plane shot down by Soviet fighters in July.

But both leaders have been expressing willingness for some sort of approach to the world's most delicate international problems.

The resolution by the five neutrals was drawn up Thursday night at Yugoslav U.N. headquarters, with Titos the host.

It was presented against the background of violent outbursts by Khrushchev inspired by the hard-hitting address of Britain's Macmillan.

Poland's Gomułka unexpectedly took the stage to start the counter-attack as the assembly session resumed its policy debate. He accused Macmillan of supporting militarist West German policy.

Freedom Will Win Out, Ike Tells World

CHICAGO, (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the free people must not give up hope that persons living under tyrannical dictatorships ultimately will have the right to decide their fate by free vote.

The President spoke to the Polish American Congress after delivering his first full-fledged speech of the presidential campaign Thursday night. In that address he said the country wants leadership from a trained team, not leadership "that sees only dark continents of despair" in American life.

His political speech was a plug for the candidacy of the Republican presidential and vice presidential candidates, Richard M. Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge.

The President also touched on politics today in his speech to the Polish American Congress. He urged citizens to join in a move to get their neighbors to register and vote Nov. 8.

The congress, which says it represents seven million Americans of Polish ancestry, was founded in 1944 with the primary aim of countering Communist conspiracy at home and Soviet expansion abroad.

"By unity and freedom we must oppose the bloc that makes the individual a plodding animal to the bidding of the state," Eisenhower told cheering delegates.

The President said freedom and peace, in the long run, are indivisible and that there must be peace for the world or no nation can enjoy it.

He recalled that in 1952 he promised the American people he would do everything that could be done by peaceful means to help those persons held in bondage under dictatorships.

He said one of former President Woodrow Wilson's 14 points for peace was the permanent independence and permanent integrity for Poland.

The people of America and Poland are akin in spirit, he continued. Then he put in a plug for Vice President Nixon, saying: "This was demonstrated when Vice President Nixon went there a year ago and a quarter of a million people cheered him voluntarily and threw flowers in his path. They were trying to let us know through him that they were sending this message to America—'We still believe in freedom.'"

May Ask Party to Vote GOP

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—If Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas withdraws from the States Rights presidential ticket on the Florida ballot, a prominent Florida states rights says he will ask members of his party to vote Republican.

Fred Hockett, Dade County chairman of the National States Rights Party, said certain Democrats, including Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida, are putting pressure on Faubus to remove his name. Faubus has until Saturday to do this.

The states rights party recently submitted enough petitions to have Faubus' name printed on the Nov. 8 general election ballot as a presidential candidate. Faubus said he was not interested in being a candidate, but unless he asks the secretary of state to remove his name it will appear. "If he does take it off," Hockett said, "our party will insist that every member vote for Vice President Richard Nixon, and we have more than 200,000 members."

West's Answer to Squeeze on Berlin by Reds

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government served notice today it is cancelling the trade agreement between West and East Germany, East-West trade totaling around two billion marks (about $470 million).

Von Eckardt told a news conference the Western Allies had agreed to join in the trade embargo, provided a new contract is not negotiated by the end of this year. Renegotiation seemed unlikely since it would have to involve a major backdown on the part of the Communists.

The action, taken after top-level conferences, was ordered as a countermove to mounting pressure by the Communists against divided and isolated West Berlin.

The cancellation notice orders erasure of the trade agreement by the end of this year.

Government authorities said Adenauer and his aides agreed Bonn would withdraw the cancellation if the Communists take the heat off Berlin.

Peter von Eckardt, press spokesman for the Bonn government said this meant the Communists would have to guarantee freedom of movement in and out of Berlin and within the city itself.

The East Germans have been applying pressure bit-by-bit, restricting movement in Berlin, which lies 110 miles from the nearest point in West Germany, despite claims by Britain, France and the United States that they with the Soviet Union are the sole authorities over this phase of the city's life.

Today's action nullifies a trade agreement which provides for

Mental Test for Young Slayer

MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP)—A West Memphis youth who admitted slaying two younger boys because he wanted to die but was afraid to take his own life has been sent to the State Hospital for a 30-day mental examination.

Circuit Judge Charles Light ordered the mental examination for Basil (Buddy) Nichols, 14, Thursday.

If found sane, Nichols will face murder charges in Crittenden Circuit Court here.

The boy told police he shot James Wallace Melton, 11, and Douglas Brock Taylor, 9, on Sept. 9. Authorities found their bodies sprawled on a bridge on a rural road near here.

Nichols said he thought if he killed the two boys he "would go to the electric chair."

Can't Buy Friends, McClellan Says

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—"One of the most vital factors in America's strength is that sound fiscal policies be maintained," Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., told a conference here Thursday. "We cannot buy friends and allies with foreign aid," McClellan said. "This friendship must be based on common ideals and mutual self-interest."

McClellan addressed the 19th annual North Texas Personnel and Industrial Relations Conference.

The senator told his audience of 500 "our economic strength is inseparable from our military might." There can be no solving of free world problems if we have "an insolvent federal government or a bankrupt federal treasury," McClellan said.

Back Joe Paul Alberty and tackle Paul Henderson will play. Alberty has missed the first two games because of a cracked jaw but coach Frank Broyles said he will start against the Horned Frogs. Henderson missed last week's 48-7 victory over Tulsa because of a fever. He will not start Saturday night but is expected to see action.

The Hogs were to fly to Fort Worth and go directly to Amos Carter Stadium on the TCU campus for a brief workout. Texas Christian is favored by a point or two for all intent the game is a tossup. The Frogs upped their stock last week by beating Southern California 7-6 after losing the opener to Kansas.

TCU speedsters Harry Moreland and Roy Dent moved up to the first team this week to give it more running punch, but coach Able Martin said they may not start.

The Razorbacks will see at least 50 Frog passes. That's how many Martin figures his team will have to throw in each game this year.

George McKinney of Arkansas leads the conference in passing (199 yards) and total offense although he has only 34 yards rushing.

Husband Charms Away From Home

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:

I am married to a crank. One day he is a fine man, pays his bills on time, is kind and likable to everyone but me. He is tight with money except when spending it on himself. He never sees good in anything I do. I am carrying our fourth child. When I mentioned it he said that was my problem. He gets mad and won't speak to me or the children for weeks. During this time he even sleeps in another room. He says that he only cares for three things — our children — and I am not one of them.

I usually worry and cry over what he says, but tonight I got fighting mad. What can I do? It seems to me I've tried everything. Is there no way to make my husband grow up? — R

Dear R: There has been my experience that there is just one way to deal with bullies — take the aggressive and keep your temper. Next time your husband gets huffy, tell him to be his age and look him straight in the eye when you tell him. You might add that only the immature and unintelligent throw their weight around and sulk.

Remind him that marriage is a partnership. As his wife and partner you rate his respect and cooperation. If you live up to your end of the contract, he must do the same with his.

Life can be so wonderful. It distresses me when people squander any part of it in useless bickering and quarreling. Demand respect. If not love, from your husband. You'll get it if you take charge.

Dear Helen:

like boy. He is leaning me to drive a motorcycle from town to live every afternoon. I like to be in when Mom and Dad got home from work at 8:10. This boy sits around until six. We can't eat until he leaves. Then he comes back at seven. This gives me an hour to eat, do dishes and get my homework done. If I am not ready to go out when he gets here, he blows his top. This is not all. I have to be in at 9:30 so we can have coffee before ten. Mom has asked him to please leave at ten so I can have a bath or wash my hair. I am supposed to be in bed by 10:30. He stays until twelve, then says, "Guess I'd better be going," as if I have been keeping him. My parents give me hints all this does not seem to work. There are five of us beside Mom and Dad. Think what a rats' mess it would be if all of us had a friend in until 12. — Student Who Needs Her Sleep

Dear Student Who Needs Her Sleep: Some people just don't know how to leave — literally because they are too infatuated. It makes the break. When the clock strikes 10, tell your devoted swift goodnight and show him the door. Explain why you're asking him to leave. Do it with a smile. Give repeat performances if necessary. Your letter indicates you run on schedule. The boy friend will follow the time table too, once he gets the habit.

Dear V. G.: As you request, I'm withholding your letter. Jealousy is a dreadful thing, and at all cost should be overcome. To let the person of whom you are jealous know your true feelings here, he blows his top. This is not all. I have to be in at 9:30 so we can have coffee before ten. Mom has asked him to please leave at ten so I can have a bath or wash my hair. I am supposed to be in bed by 10:30. He stays until twelve, then says, "Guess I'd better be going," as if I have been keeping him. My parents give me hints all this does not seem to work. There are five of us beside Mom and Dad. Think what a rats' mess it would be if all of us had a friend in until 12. — Student Who Needs Her Sleep know how to leave — literally because they are too infatuated. It makes the break. When the clock strikes 10, tell your devoted swift goodnight and show him the door. Explain why you're asking him to leave. Do it with a smile. Give repeat performances if necessary. Your letter indicates you run on schedule. The boy friend will follow the time table too, once he gets the habit.

Dear V. G.: As you request, I'm withholding your letter. Jealousy is a dreadful thing, and at all cost should be overcome. To let the person of whom you are jealous know your true feelings here, he blows his top. This is not all. I have to be in at 9:30 so we can have coffee before ten. WARRNS CASTRO OF Catholic Power UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Poland's Communist chief Wladyslaw Gomulka cautioned Fidel Castro not to underestimate the power of the Roman Catholic Church.

Sources sitting in a 40-minute conference of the men reported today that the Pole brought up the issue jokingly, reminding Castro that Poland has had ample experience in dealing with the Catholics, who form the overwhelming majority of the country.

The Cuban prime minister and Gomulka conferred in a diplomatic lounge, closely guarded by Castro's security men.

The Cuban apparently did not react to Gomulka's advice, but one of his aides took notes.

There is an uneasy truce now in Poland between the Catholic Church and the Communist authorities. It was established after the bloodless revolution in 1956.

In Cuba, Castro has attacked priests as working against his revolution, and the Church has struck back in pastoral letters.

A Polish spokesman said Gomulka accepted an invitation from Castro to visit Cuba. No date was set.

WARRNS CASTRO OF Catholic Power UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Poland's Communist chief Wladyslaw Gomulka cautioned Fidel Castro not to underestimate the power of the Roman Catholic Church.

Sources sitting in a 40-minute conference of the men reported today that the Pole brought up the issue jokingly, reminding Castro that Poland has had ample experience in dealing with the Catholics, who form the overwhelming majority of the country.

The Cuban prime minister and Gomulka conferred in a diplomatic lounge, closely guarded by Castro's security men.

The Cuban apparently did not react to Gomulka's advice, but one of his aides took notes.

There is an uneasy truce now in Poland between the Catholic Church and the Communist authorities. It was established after the bloodless revolution in 1956.

In Cuba, Castro has attacked priests as working against his revolution, and the Church has struck back in pastoral letters.

A Polish spokesman said Gomulka accepted an invitation from Castro to visit Cuba. No date was set.

U. S. in Tribute to Jap Royalty WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today honored the visit of Crown Prince Akihito and Princess Michiko of Japan by unveiling a Japanese-American friendship stamp.

Prince Akihito, who attended the ceremony at the Post Office Department, expressed deep appreciation.

The stamp, printed in pink and blue, shows Japanese cherry blossoms against a background of the Washington Monument.

The design was executed by Miss Gyo Fujikawa, American artist of Japanese parentage.

The stamp, in four-cent denomination, marks the 100th anniversary of the arrival of the first Japanese diplomatic delegation to America.
